

GOT BULLET
IN SHOULDERRalph D. Burns Was Injured at Underhill

HE DROPPED HIS MUSKET

Weapon Was Discharged and Bullet
Struck Him in Arm and Shoulder.
He is Now in Fanny
Allen Hospital.

Underhill, Oct. 27.—Shot through one arm and shoulder with a ball from an old army musket, Ralph D. Burns of Underhill Center was taken to the Fanny Allen hospital in Winoski yesterday afternoon, and is reported to be in a serious condition. The weapon dropped by the hunter was discharged. Burns started out yesterday morning with William Gaudin of Burlington, and they ranged about the Mt. Mansfield house, having put up their team at George Prouty's farm. Burns, being somewhat rheumatic, waited near the Prouty farm while Gaudin made a detour of the territory for some distance. When Gaudin was returning to the Prouty farm he heard the report of a shot in the vicinity where he had left Burns, and he hurried to the spot, finding Burns badly wounded.

Several other hunters were in the neighborhood, and they assisted Gaudin in caring for the wounded man until Dr. Fogg arrived, after which Burns was taken in an automobile to the hospital.

Burns told the others that while he was standing on a pile of rocks watching for a deer he felt himself slipping and dropped the gun, whereupon the weapon was discharged, the bullet hitting him in the arm and shoulder.

BALLOON LANDED
JUST IN TIMEBoston Man Had Narrow Escape from Being Blown Out to Sea Yesterday Afternoon.

Newbury, Mass., Oct. 27.—Watching with apprehension for some time a rapidly approaching balloon, soaring over a mile high in the sky, the life saving crew on Plum Island, off this town, hurriedly launched their boat late yesterday afternoon in anticipation of having to rescue a lone sky pilot from the sea.

As the balloon neared the ocean, however, it was brought rapidly to earth and a little more than a mile from the shore line Jay B. Benton, of Boston, gave a last yank at his valve rope and stepped safely upon terra firma, having traveled the twenty-seven miles from Lowell to Newbury in an hour and ten minutes, for the greater part of the distance at an elevation of 6000 feet, where a strong west wind was blowing.

To reach the earth after sighting the shore line in dangerous proximity it was necessary to make a quick descent and the balloon, the Boston, was brought to earth, from the high elevation at the rate of 700 feet per minute. Co. E. C. Benton, brother of the aeronaut, and Charles J. Olden, both of Boston, followed the balloon in an automobile, but were outtraced. The life saving crew also came ashore to make the acquaintance of the pilot, who had caused some uneasiness.

It was the eighth ascension for Mr. Benton and his first alone, two more ascensions being necessary to qualify him as a pilot.

AGED PASTOR HONORED.

Georgia, Oct. 27.—Rev. C. W. Clark, pastor of the Congregational church here, celebrated his 78th birthday last night at the home of Oscar Ladd, there being about forty people present. He was presented a sum of money.

The small daughter, Susie, of P. H. Dwyer of Rutland, who was accidentally shot Saturday in the jaw in a serious condition as the result of the badly fractured jaw. The physician probed for the bullet Sunday but was unable to find it.

The appointments for the positions of clerk and carrier at Newport post office have been made and the free delivery system will commence November 1st. Twenty-nine applicants took the examinations for the four appointments.

Town Clerk Fullerton of Waterbury reports a sale of 230 hunters' licenses this season, of which 12 were issued to ladies. The oldest man to take out a license gave his age as 90 while the youngest was a boy of 12.

Nicholas Howley of Rutland died at his home in that city Sunday morning. He was 40 years old and had lived all his life in Rutland.

Harvest Supper Next Wednesday.

The menu of the harvest supper, which will be served by the Ladies' Guild of the Church of the Good Shepherd, Wednesday, Oct. 27, from 5:30 to 7, is given below. Price, 20c.

Menu.
Vegetable hash.
Pickled beets.
Cabbage salad.
Rolls.
Pumpkin and apple pie.
Doughnuts.
Tea and coffee.
Apples and grapes.

UNIVERSALISTS ELECT
C. L. HUTCHINSON, PRES.National Convention at Detroit Also Turned Down Proposition to Amend Constitution.

Detroit, Oct. 27.—An amendment to the constitution of the Universalist church, proposed by Rev. E. W. Perkins of Lynn, Mass., to change the loose form of congregationalism now in vogue and vest real administrative power in a single head, to be known as the president of the Universalist church in the United States, failed by a few votes yesterday to receive the necessary two-thirds majority in the biennial convention of the Universalist church. The matter accordingly was laid over until the next biennial convention. A similar proposal came up at the convention two years ago, but was ruled out of order.

Springfield, Mass., was selected as the next convention city and the following officers were elected:
Charles L. Hutchinson of Chicago, president; Ora E. Butterfield of Detroit, vice-president; Isaac M. Atwood of Rochester, N. Y., sec.; Eugene F. Endicott of Boston, treas.; Henry W. Ruggles of Providence, R. I. Louis A. Ames of New York city, Frederick W. Betts of Syracuse, N. Y., H. E. Williams of Washington, D. C., and Frederick W. Perkins of Lynn, Mass., trustees for four years.

At the closing of yesterday afternoon's session a rising testimonial of remembrance and affection was given for the late Rev. G. L. Demerest of Manchester, N. H., who died early in October and who was the convention secretary from 1877 to 1895.

Another prominent incident of the convention program was the receipt of nine pledges of $1000 each for the raising of the convention debt of $25,000. The nine pledges followed the announcement of a campaign to secure 25 pledges of $1000 each.

Rev. A. J. Torstieff of Winchester, N. H., presented to the convention a piece of the old bell and a cross made from the woodwork of the church at Winchester in which the Universalist denomination was started in 1803 and which was destroyed by fire last month.

HALF TON OF ROCK
MISSED CHILDRENNarrow Escape from Fatality at Montpelier Today When Stone Fell From Cliff Street to Elm Street.

When a half-ton rock fell from the cliff of Cliff street, Montpelier, to Elm street today it came so near several children who were playing there that they were scattered with dirt which came down with it. The rock struck the corner of John McDonald's piazza and smashed it. The escape of the children was very narrow. A year ago another large stone came down and demolished a shed there.

UNDERPASS ACCEPTED.

Together with 100 Rods of New Roading at Richford.

Richford, Oct. 27.—The Vermont public service commission met here today and accepted an underpass and one hundred rods of new highway which were constructed to abolish a dangerous grade crossing a mile south of the village. The selection of the town met with the commission. It is understood that the work, which was done by the Canadian Pacific railroad, cost $10,000.

The commission also inspected the Canadian Pacific railroad from Newport to Richford and the Central Vermont railroad from Richford to Sheldon Junction.

EXTENDS PASTORAL CALL.

Baptist Church of Montgomery Center
Asks Brandon Man.

Montgomery Center, Oct. 27.—The Baptist church of this place has extended a call to the Rev. Mr. Nutting of Brandon.

NATIVE OF HARDWICK.

James V. Smith Died at Boxcaen, N. H.
Funeral Yesterday.

Franklin, N. H., Oct. 27.—The funeral of James V. Smith, the oldest man in Boxcaen, was held there yesterday afternoon, Rev. Frank Park officiating. Mr. Smith was born in Hardwick, Vt., Nov. 23, 1818, and had lived in Boxcaen since 1845.

Among arrivals at the City hotel last evening and today were C. H. Walker, C. F. Fellows, C. A. Parker, J. H. Bower, Boston; George E. Moul, New York; Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Benjamin, Concord; N. H.; C. S. Saint, Brattleboro; Forest E. Wood, Berlin, N. H.; A. S. Douglass, Woodsville, N. H.; George F. Badger, Morrisville; A. J. Payne, Burlington; A. R. Lilley, Manchester, N. H.; H. G. Stebbins, E. L. Putnam, Manchester, N. H.; R. H. May, Essex Junction; J. A. Rogers, St. Albans; Van Curtis, Springfield.

Robert I. Batchelder, the proprietor of the Battenkill Inn at Manchester for a number of years, went suddenly insane about ten days ago. As he did not grow any better he was taken to the Rutland Retreat Sunday afternoon. Mr. Batchelder is one of the best known men in that vicinity and it is thought that a recent injury to his back caused his reason to become deranged.

Mrs. Henry Boldens, a well-known resident of Middlebury, died very suddenly Saturday morning. She had been attending a Grange meeting Friday night and soon after coming home was taken suddenly ill and died without regaining consciousness. The cause of her death was progressive apoplexy. The funeral was held Monday afternoon.

FLAGS FLOAT
AT HALF-MASTIn Honor of Major-General
O. O. Howard

WHO DIED IN BURLINGTON

Funeral Will Probably Be Held From
First Congregational Church in Burlington on Friday.
His Career.

Burlington, Oct. 27.—The arrangements for the funeral of Major-General Oliver Otis Howard, who died suddenly last night of angina pectoris, will not be completed until the arrival of his son from the West tonight, but it is probable that the services will be held Friday at the First Congregational church, with burial in Lake View cemetery here. Flags in this city are at half-mast today, in honor of the last surviving commander of any army in the Civil war. The community feels a distinct loss in his death.

General Howard was born at Leeds, Me., November 8, 1830, of Puritan ancestry. His father, Rowland Bailey, was a farmer; attended Monmouth and Yarmouth, Me., academies, and graduated at Bowdoin College, Me., 1850.

He entered West Point, 1850; graduated 1854, fourth in general standing; promoted second lieutenant ordnance department; stationed first at Watervliet arsenal, New York; in 1863, for about a year, in command of Kennebec arsenal, Maine, returning to Watervliet early in 1866; sent thence to Florida, reporting to General Harney for duty as his chief of ordnance in that field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May, 1861, and took command of the 3d Maine volunteers. He served in the field against the Seminole Indians; the fall of 1867 ordered to West Point, became instructor of cadets in mathematics; remained there the four years preceding the War of Rebellion; resigned in May